"Unsolved Mysteries"

1991 West Paris child snatching on TV Friday

By ALISON ALOISIO

The story of the abduction of two West Paris youngsters will be told on "Unsolved Mysteries" Friday night.

In 1991, Linden and Carl McLean (then 7 and 5 years-old) were taken by their mother, according to detective Jim Miclon of the Oxford County Sheriff's Department. Miclon has been working on the case since then.

He said the children's biological mother, Esther Ahonen, disappeared with them in the middle of a custody battle with their father, Jerry McLean, in Plymouth, Mass., at the time. Jerry McLean still lives in West Paris, and went to the sheriff's department in April of 1991 when the three vanished.

Ahonen was then indicted by an Oxford County grand jury for criminal restraint by a parent, a felony. FBI warrants for voluntary flight to avoid prosecution have also been issued, according to Miclon.

Miclon said Ahonen had made claims that McLean had abused the children. "But since we've never been able to interview the children, we can't substantiate her claims," Miclon said Tuesday.

Miclon said interviews concerning the case have been done in England, Canada, and eight U.S. states.

He said his investigation has led him to believe the mother and children are involved in an underground organization which is helping to hide them. He said a woman named Faye Yeager of Georgia heads the underground.

"The underground changes the mother and children's identity and social security numbers, and then they live under assumed names," Miclon said.

He hopes the exposure on the NBC program will help the investigation.

"If a stranger abducts children, there's a lot of interest. But when it's a parental abduction, you don't get the reaction nationwide that you'd hope," he said.

Miclon said "Unsolved Mysteries" had contacted his department about the case.

"It will be profiled with three other similar cases," he said.

Anyone with information on the case is asked to call 1-800-733-1421.

Bethel FY'95 budget

Boards concur on funding proposals

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Bethel's town budget will go up by 12.3 percent, but its tax rate will remain level (as it has since 1992), if Town Meeting voters go along with the recommendations of the Budget Committee and selectmen.

The two committees completed their budget review Monday. In a change from past practice, the committees met jointly this year, and the result was an amicable review process and final agreement on the major recommendations in the budget.

Also in a departure from the experience of recent years, the two committees agreed to recommend that voters approve the major recommendations of the town's Capital Improvement Committee.

The CIP Committee is recommending that the town totally draw down its designated reserve accounts in order to pay for road work ($85,000), debt service ($70,000), and the purchase of a number of pieces of equipment including a back hoe ($45,000), new police cruiser ($20,000), new generation defibrillator ($10,000), and tag-along sweeper ($9,000).

By contrast, voters last year approved only debt service ($70,000).

SAD44 NOVA assessment

Vote dims hope for funding change

By ALISON ALOISIO
AND ANDREW TURNER

The SAD44 (Rumford) School Board Monday voted against a change in the NOVA funding formula that might have saved SAD44 tens of thousands of dollars.

The vote from NOVA's largest member puts SAD44's bid for less expensive vocational education in serious jeopardy.

The change was requested by SAD44 because of its low student share of the program. Telstar students have to travel to Rumford for most of the classes, and few are willing to make the trip. This year's enrollment was 14 students.

SAD44's share of the budget, though, was about $203,000 for the year. It was based entirely on the total number of students enrolled at Telstar relative to other NOVA member schools, regardless of how manuscript two weeks ago to support a funding change.

But the plan must also be approved by enough individual district or town boards to make up a majority of their representation in a second vote by the NOVA board. Other members include SAD21 (Dixfield), Peru, Hamover, Gilead, and Upton. If approved, it would take effect in FY'97.

"I don't know what the benefits are, other than meeting the needs of SAD44. So in my best judgment, in terms of this district, it's hard for me to support an increase in $50,000 to meet the other district's needs," SAD43 Supt. Bill Richards told his board.

Directors Boivin Labrecque and Ed Flynn, who represent SAD43 on the NOVA board, supported the formula change.

Suspect charged in Bryant Pond break-ins

By ALISON ALOISIO

A former Bryant Pond man has been arraigned on charges stemming from a series of break-ins in the village last fall.

William L. Wells, 23, now of Rumford, is charged in connection with burglaries at the Bryant Pond Post Office and Breaux's, Too, on October 19, according to detective Jim Miclon of the Oxford County Sheriff's Department.

Wells is also charged with the theft of about $300 worth of beer and cigarettes from Breaux's, Too, and the theft of a car. He faces charges as well for an attempted burglary at the Village Store, also in Bryant Pond.

Wells was arraigned in Oxford County Superior Court on April 13, after being indicted by a grand jury on April 4.

A $10,000 reward had been offered for information leading to an arrest and conviction in the Post Office case, but Miclon said no one would receive it.

"We did the work ourselves," he said.

Miclon said he has worked closely with U.S. Postal Inspector Donald Hotchkiss since last fall.

"We met weekly, and interviewed 33 people. There were a lot of pieces of the puzzle to put together," Miclon said.

He said no one else was being sought in connection with the crimes.

Miclon said the case could come before Superior Court in June, but it was unlikely.

"It will more likely be in September," he said.

Miclon also said that although the Post Office break-in is considered a federal crime, that case would not be sent to federal court in Portland.

"Don and I felt the end result would be the same by keeping everything in state court. Once tried and convicted, the punishment would be the same. It's simpler to just have one trial, since we have a lot of witnesses," Miclon said.

Grover, Lowe, Thurston file

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Three candidates have filed for the two spots that will open in June on the Bethel Board of Selectmen.

As of the close of the filing period Monday, incumbent John Thurston, along with newcomers Jane Lowe and Ruth Grover had submitted papers with the requisite 25 to 100 signatures.

Lowe is a long-time School Board member and veteran of last year's selectmen's race, when four candidates battled for a single spot. In that race Lowe finished second, behind winner Rick Whitney.

Grover is making her first bid for elective office, while Thurston will be seeking a third three-year term on the board.

Arthur Gilbert, who currently serves as chairman of the Board of Selectmen, announced earlier that he will retire from that duty. He has, however, filed papers for one of the two openings. There is no formal candidate for the second assessor's position, but Stan Howe has said he would accept the position if a write-in campaign for him develops.

There are two openings on the SAD44 Board of Directors. Incumbent Merton Brown, currently chairman of that board, is seeking reelection; and newcomer Linda Gamble is seeking to fill the seat vacated by Lowe.

MDOT: Eminent domain hearing likely this month

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Maine Department of Transportation is now expected to hold a public hearing this month on the possibility of taking the land for the Bethel Station parkway by eminent domain.

Deputy Commissioner Alden Small said Tuesday that a hearing date will probably be announced in the next day or two.

Small said the public's response to a possible eminent domain taking would play a large role in MDOT's decision as to whether or not to go that route.

Late last month, developer Heime Merrill asked MDOT to begin eminent domain proceedings, saying that he had been unable to come to private agreements with the current landowners for the sale of the land.

Small said he expected to still find substantial public support for relocating the main Route 2-26 connector from Cross Street to the proposed parkway, "but we told Heinie early on that we saw the need to have another public hearing if we were to take the land by eminent domain."

If the hearing turns up serious opposition, Small said, "We would have cause to rethink."

In a related matter, Victoria Associates (the project's developers) successfully closed last week on two parcels of land owned by L.E. Davis Lumber Company.

The two parcels total approximately 15 acres on both sides of Cross Street.

Former owner Dan Davis said he has kept a one-acre parcel, on which Dan's Carwash is located.

Andover voters hose Fire Department request

By ALISON ALOISIO

Beating a dead horse didn't pay off for the Andover fire department.

By a margin of 105-29, town voters last week defeated a controversial request for $5,000 to buy new 5-inch fire hose.

The same article had been voted down at the March 4 annual Town Meeting.

"The vote shows the people were a little upset with them (the Fire Department). It's like beating a dead horse. They should have held off until next year," said selectman Joseph Madigan after the meeting.

Madigan had argued vehemently against allowing reconsideration of the article.

The issue arose when a special meeting needed to be called to vote on several articles that had been left off the warrant for the annual meeting. Fire chief Ken Dixon convinced the majority of selectmen to bring the fire hose item back for reconsideration at the special meeting.

But Madigan was a vocal minority of one. He contacted the Maine Municipal Association, and found two court cases in which he said judges ruled reconsideration votes should not stand.

"The judge (in one case) said such reconsideration can allow 10 percent of the people to interfere with a decision already made by the majority. It stops the orderly process of the town. Every day, people could come in and ask for reconsideration of something," he told townspeople at the meeting.

Dixon made his case for the hose, saying the 5-inch hose would be more efficient than the 2 1/2 inch currently used by the town.

"You don't have the friction loss you do with the 2 1/2 inch hose. It wouldn't tie up another truck like it does now to boost the pressure," he said.

Dixon also said the present cotton hose requires drying before it can be reloaded onto the truck, keeping firemen away from their jobs two hours longer than the larger hose would.

About ten minutes into the discussion, Madigan started to question how money had been spent by the fire department in the past.

But after a voter questioned if the information was pertinent, moderator Jane Rich told Madigan, "I don't think events from the past are pertinent to the article. I think

HATERS AREN'T PATRIOTS

To the Editor:

Jackie Schuessler is right, America needs to wake up. She notes that both the Constitution and the Second Amendment protect American's rights to bear arms.

She further notes that Thomas Jefferson intended those rights so that Americans could defend themselves against tyranny in government. Is anyone out there honestly deluded enough to believe that Thomas Jefferson ever imagined a person's ability to build 4,000 pound bombs out of fertilizer. Or one man's ability to transport that mass of destruction anywhere in the country in hours with Ryder van?

Militias are forming all over this country. And I am one of the people who marched through the streets in the 60s and decried the government abuses of its investigative powers that allowed groups like that to flourish. We screamed about illegal wire taps and undercover agents. And people listened.

But I want desperately to believe that even then, in my very idealistic youth, I would have been appalled by the type of merciless attack upon civilians, women and children that has been afflicted on the people of Oklahoma City and Americans in general by the members of what in anyone's book can only be classified as a "hate group."

There is a vast difference between a militia, formed to protect the rights of the citizenry at large and a paramilitary organization, built around some charismatic leader, and only interested in furthering the goals of their vocal and very often violent minority. Minorities have rights in this country only so long as they do not attempt to forcibly supersede the rights of the majority. Americans will not submit to minority rule, and that is what militias are all about.

While the United States has a long history of preserving citizens' rights to defend what they believe are their privileges under the constitution, our forefathers left broad leeway to the majority's rights to defend themselves as individuals and as a group. And, people who feel that they are in danger will defend themselves regardless of laws or Constitutions.

The militias are feeling nervous now. And well they should. Because the American people are waking up. Just as Ms. Schuessler hoped that we would.

MILITIA MISSIVE MISTITLED

To the Editor:

This letter is in response to the title that you placed with my letter "The militia and the Founding Fathers," in the April 26 edition of The Citizen.

Your title, "The Militia Needs You," implies that the article is to recruit militia members. Obviously, you felt there was a need to change my title, even though there was nothing in my article about recruiting. I was angry about the change but decided to "let it go," until my phone started ringing continuously, regarding, "The Militia Needs You" -- instead of concern for what our founding fathers wanted for the United States of America.

To set the record straight: "I do not belong to a militia," let alone have the desire to be a recruiting officer. I am not "delusional and illogical," which your editorial (on the same day) implies. The illogical part is that your title "The militia needs you" does not fit the information I provided concerning "The militia and the Founding Fathers."

Jackie Schuessler
Bethel

Reply: Actually, Mrs. Schuessler entitled her earlier letter "The militias and the founding of America," not "The militias and the Founding Fathers." All materials submitted for publication are subject to editing, including letters to the editor. In the case of letter titles, we try to keep them to one line of type, and Mrs. Schuessler's proposed title, besides being overly general, didn't fit that space requirement. When we ourselves provide the titles for letters (and we do on most), we try very hard to capture the essence of the writer's message. And from that perspective, "The militia needs you" seems a reasonable synopsis of the important message in a letter that argues "the urgent necessity for militias today" and concludes: "Militias are forming rapidly all over America. Wake up America!"

LEARN HIS PLAN

To the Editor:

Just as the tragic events of Oklahoma City have been brought home to us through the electronic media, so also has the hypocrisy of this nation and its leaders!

Week after week, the people of our nation are perfectly willing to ignore God by staying away from church services each Sunday. Instead, they choose to chase after false gods and religions that make a mockery out of God's well-defined laws. Our schools and governments attempt to remove all references to Him from our daily lives, while accepting Native American spiritualism, amoral attitudes, new age worship, and deviant lifestyles in the name of diversity. And, one has only to listen as he walks down any main street to know that God's name is constantly being used in the most vile and degrading manner by people of all ages.

But, let a disaster strike, and these same people will cram themselves into a worship service and call on God for healing of their pain and suffering. What hypocrisy!

God doesn't tell us to call on Him when we feel like it, or when we need something from Him. In 2 Chronicles 7:14, God makes it very clear that first we are to humble ourselves, pray and seek Him, and turn from our wicked ways, and then He will forgive our sins and heal our land.

The people of our nation just can't seem to understand this. But then how could they? They're too busy ignoring or disobeying God to learn about His plan for their happiness.

INSECURE PARANOIDS NEED TO FEEL POWERFUL

To the Editor:

When Timothy McVeigh was arrested, he was found to have a semi-automatic pistol, loaded with "cop-killer" bullets, strapped to his chest. Yet both Dole and Gingrich still will not support the president's ban on assault weapons. This is just one example of the Republicans' warped ideology that makes me shudder.

Ultimately, this obsession with "the right to bear arms and defend one's self" is about the need for a lot of paranoid, insecure people, with not much else in their lives, to feel powerful.

DIFFERENT TIMES, DIFFERENT RESPONSIBILITIES

To the Editor:

In response to Jackie Schuessler's "The Militia Needs You."

It seems that the private militias of today are trying to excuse who they are and what they do by connecting themselves to patriotism, but the times of our forefathers were very different than the times of today. You cannot compare the two.

The militias of the 1770s were largely not created by choice. Almost all towns required that any male aged 16 to 60 join the local militia. Their initial aim was not to protect themselves, but to protect their villages and towns as a whole. The uprising in 1775 of the colonial militias was caused by the fact that they had no vote or representation in the government (England). The taxes they paid were of no benefit to them -- it all went to support the Crown. The tension this caused all came to a head on April 19, 1775 on a small green in Lexington, Mass. The patriots of 1775 did not use, or consider, terrorist means to send their message. They did not kill innocent people. They did not murder babies. They did not advocate violence for the sake of violence. They did not kill and then run away in cowardice. These patriots simply stood their ground in a most public spot and faced their foe.

As for guns, it may well be that our forefathers wanted us to have the right to keep and bear arms for the purpose of self defense, hunting, and protection of personal property. It made a lot of sense in their day and I am certain they never dreamed of a time when there weren't attacks by Indians, wolves or cougars, of a time when you could get fresh meat at the local supermarket, and towns were guarded and protected by their own police.

When the age of the automobile arrived, anyone could drive one. As cars became more and more common, so did injuries and deaths involving them. It became clear that some sort of licensing and limitation had to be created. So it became a privilege, not a right, to drive a car. You need to get a license to prove that you know how to operate it. You need to follow limitations, such as how fast you can drive, stopping at red lights, allowing pedestrians to cross. You need to be responsible.

Consider this. Today, death by gunshot is more likely to be inflicted by a friend or family member than by a stranger. Licensing and limitations of bearing arms is as necessary as the licensing and limitations of automobile use. The right needs to become a privilege. It doesn't mean you cannot bear arms, it means you agree to bear arms responsibly. Its time has come.

REMEMBERING MAXINE BROWN

To the Editor:

The Bethel Historical Society has lost a valued member with the death last week of Maxine Brown. Few members were more devoted to the work of the society than Maxine, who served as a guide in the museum for several years following its opening in 1974. She really loved taking people through the historic structure and enlightening them about the history of Bethel and the lives and times of people in the 19th century. She also seemed to take some of our most memorable visitors on a tour of the museum. We frequently would laugh about some of the experiences she had that appeared could only have happened to her.

She also served as society secretary and on its Program Committee. She led the effort to produce a society cookbook in 1979. She was made an Honorary Member in 1986, the society's highest membership honor.

It was only declining health that removed her from the society's pool of enthusiastic volunteers. She often lamented when I saw her how much she missed volunteering at the Dr. Moses Mason House. We greatly missed her as well.

I will also miss her humor, enthusiasm, and great interest. I will always remember her many contributions to the success of the society in those early days.

During our conversations through the years, I came to believe, even though I never had her as a teacher, that her heart and soul were inevitably with the underdog in education. While some teachers might naturally gravitate toward the more academically gifted students and/or those from more privileged backgrounds, Maxine was drawn to those from families with very limited resources and uncertain potential. She seemed to have a special impact on those students while having an equally significant influence on her other "charges" as well.

That is part of her legacy to us today. As a teacher and community volunteer, one could not do much better.

COME ON, FOLKS, LIGHT OUR FIREWORKS

To the Editor:

What does the Fourth of July mean to you? Independence? Freedom? Picnics? Family Activities? Sparklers? Roman Candles? Sky Rockets? Fireworks? As long as I can remember the Fourth was synonymous with all of the above and yes...fireworks. To keep these memories alive we (the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce) are asking for donations to pay for these "oohs" and "aahs." We have established three categories: "Sparklers" -- under $100; "Roman candles" -- between $100-$150; "Sky rockets" -- over $150. Please call one of us if you would like to be an instrument to keep the tradition alive.

OUR TOWN BAND CAN BE A GREAT TOWN BAND

To the Editor:

I was there the night the town band (The Mahoosuc Music Makers) made their first attempt to play a song together. It was "America the Beautiful" ... it was terribly beautiful. It hardly squeaked or spluttered and everyone left that night talking about promise and potential. A lot of work later the band reminds me of an old turntable that just needed to warm up a little before playing in style. They are certainly playing in style now.

Anyone who has ever had the pleasure of hearing a town band under a gazebo knows what an asset it is to the community. Perhaps someday there will be a train from Portland in the summer months ... a stroll through town...music on the common. Support these musical volunteers and please keep in mind when you are voting to cut, or maintain, or enhance the school budget for art and music that this band would never have happened without music education in the public schools.

THIS WEEK AT THE

Moses Mason House

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the next monthly meeting will be held on Thursday, May 4, in the meeting room of the organization's headquarters, the Dr. Moses Mason House, 14 Broad Street. Featured speaker for the evening will be Richard Deans of Hebron, speaking on the history of the Oxford County Fair, which this year observes its 150th anniversary. Anyone interested in attending the 7:30 p.m. meeting is cordially invited to do so.

The spring meeting of the Oxford County League of Historical Societies was held on Saturday, April 22 at the host society's headquarters, the Dr. Moses Mason House. As the January annual meeting had to be canceled due to weather conditions, the officers for the coming year were elected following the report from the Nominating Committee, headed by Ken Cooper of Buckfield; president, Ben B. Conant, Paris Cape Historical Society; vice president, Mildred Dickson, Sumner Historical Society; secretary-treasurer, Stanley R. Howe, Bethel Historical Society. Reports were heard from various societies in attendance and a number of publications relating to Oxford County history were discussed. It was voted to pursue the possibility of publishing a brochure listing all historical societies in Oxford County along with other pertinent data, such as hours, contact telephone number, etc. Bethel Society Director Stanley R. Howe presented a slide lecture on the history of the Maine Grange during the program portion of the meeting.

After a few more questions from citizens about the use of the hose, the article was defeated. Voting was by secret ballot.

In other articles considered at the meeting, townspeople approved $35,000 for maintenance of the transfer station, and $5,000 for recycling.

They also voted to raise $500 for computer software and training for the town's treasurer and tax collector.

Voters defeated an article that would have given $500 to the Western Region Council on Alcoholism and $200 to the Big Brothers/Big Sisters program.

They also voted to keep the fee for lodging licenses at $2, rather than raising it to $5, as requested.

Gill dismissal motion denied

PARIS--A judge last week refused to dismiss charges of unlawful practice of psychology against Charles Gill, former employee of the Bethel Area Health Center. Gill's lawyer, John Jenness, presented four motions for hearing in Oxford County Superior Court: to hire a private investigator, to dismiss all counts of unlawful practice of psychology; to suppress evidence obtained from Gill's home and office by search warrants; and to obtain a detailed accounting of the state's witness list and evidence to be presented at trial. Justice Carl Bradford was not persuaded by defense arguments on the unlawful practice and search warrants motions. He did tell assistant district attorney Joseph O'Connor to prepare a written list of witnesses to be called into court regarding the unlawful practice counts, and told Jenness he could use a private investigator to research their testimony.

Chandler Brook Estates approved

BETHEL--An application for the subdivision formerly called Chandler Brook Estates was unanimously approved Wednesday by the Planning Board. It had been tabled at the previous meeting. Board member Don Feeney had questioned the legality of creating a 9.9-acre subdivision and withholding the remainder of a 240-acre parcel, without the approval of the Department of Environmental Protection. At Wednesday's meeting Feeney said he and applicant Tom Kennison had studied the matter. Feeney said he was satisfied DEP approval is not needed.

One-year school agreement for Upton

UPTON--School officials voted Thursday to enter into a one-year agreement to send about nine students to Errol, N.H., schools next year. The school board had previously voted to have a three-year contract, but at the Wednesday special town meeting, voters rejected the proposal by a vote of 14-13. The board had previously sent out bids for transportation and had accepted one for three years at $14,000 a year, contingent on the town accepting the budget proposal and acceptance of a three-year contract. At the Thursday meeting, the bidder declined a one-year contract, and new bids will be requested for one year. School officials say the tuition cost will be higher in Errol than it is in SAD44, where students currently attend. Transportation costs are expected to drop.

Newry cleanup day announced

NEWRY--Selectmen have set June 3 and 4 as spring cleanup day, according to selectman Wendy Hanscom. Pickup sites will be announced later. Hanscom also said the Newry plow truck and sander will go out to bid on May 10. The truck can be viewed at the Sunday River fire station. The town voted at the annual Town Meeting to contract for road services in the future.

James River to lose 150 jobs

BERLIN, N.H.--The James River Paper Company announced recently that the towel and tissue division will close by the end of June and that 150 salaried and hourly positions will be lost. Local employment and economic development agencies are gearing up to help the displaced workers find new jobs. Bill Lockard of James River said the tissue and towel division close-down will not affect the amount of wood that James River purchases from the logging industry. The company employs 1,157 people at its Berlin/Gorham plant.

Teachers to be fingerprinted?

AUGUSTA--Teachers would be asked to submit to an FBI criminal check when they apply for a job under a bill before the legislature's Education Committee. It would require them to be fingerprinted and checked against people convicted of crimes nationwide. Currently, employers can seek a check on applicants and employees only for offenses committed in Maine. The Maine Education Association opposes the bill. But Keith Kolodgie of the Maine School Management Association urged the committee to endorse it, saying it is difficult for schools to identify people who should not work with children. The cost of implementing the bill could hurt its chances -- according to the Maine State Police's Support Services Division, it would cost $105,000 to handle check requests.

Skiing liability may be clarified

AUGUSTA--Proposed legislation would establish the bases for recovery by skiers against ski areas for personal injuries. It would also establish the duties of skiers and the areas of legal responsibility for ski area operations. "It's an effort to clarify what the dangers are, and to keep down some insurance costs to the ski area, yet for them to still realize they have a responsibility to their skiers," said the bill's sponsor, state Rep. Robert Cameron of Rumford. The bill specifies that downhill, telemark and cross-country skiing, snowboarding, and other methods of sliding downhill are all covered by the law.

Legislature repeals car test program

AUGUSTA--With little debate or dissension, the Maine Legislature voted last week to repeal the nation's first comprehensive auto-emission testing program. The state must now take its chances in court. Gov. Angus King will sign the legislation this week. An attorney for California-based Systems Control Inc. said the firm will sue the state to recover damages under its $42 million contract to build and operate the seven testing centers in southern Maine. The lawsuit will be filed in state court next week. The testing program was approved by the Legislature in 1992 as the centerpiece of the state's plan for reducing smog-creating emissions by 15 percent to comply with the federal Clean Air Act. Tests began in July, but were immediately met with opposition from citizens who considered them unnecessary, overly expensive, and unreliable.

Maine green glass goes to Italy

PORTLAND--Thanks to the needs of Italian wine-makers, Joseph Mokarzel's days as the "Jolly Green Giant" are about to end. Mokarzel is president of the Maine Beverage Container Service, and he's watched a pile of crushed green glass grow steadily in the five years since the state began requiring refundable deposits on wine and liquor. The trouble is a lack of markets for green glass. "We can sell flint (clear glass) and amber (brown), but supply of green outweighs the demand," said Mokarzel. "We call it the Green Mountain, and I feel like I'm the Jolly Green Giant," he said. Now, the 10,000 tons of glass, enough for 500,000 bottles, is slated to be shipped to Italy, where it will be made into wine bottles. A Canadian broker arranged the deal.

Bicentennial Committee notes:

By JUNE ABBOTT

At the April 23 meeting of the Bethel Bicentennial Committee many of the committees reported on the progress of the projects being formulated for the 1996 celebration.

The Bethel calendar is moving forward with choices of pictures under consideration. The committee welcomes any pictures previously unseen publicly for possible inclusion. Militia groups are being contacted for attendance throughout the celebration. The Bethel Library is working hand-in-hand with the Education Committee to have available special collections and reading lists pertaining to the years' celebration. The first of this cooperative effort being "Small Town Portraits," a collection of fiction and nonfiction works with a setting of or about small town life.

There are plans being considered as well for a garden show/tour to be held in July. Another of the projects being planned concerns Woodland Cemetery. This would be the community's service project for the Bicentennial year. The cemetery has fallen upon hard times and the committee will be looking for local volunteers to help restore this historic site to its former grandeur.

The next Bethel Bicentennial Committee will meet on May 25, at 7 p.m. at Stan Howe's home at 18 Broad Street. All are welcome.

road work ($74,000) and the purchase of a new copier ($10,000) for the town office.

Last year the CIP committee and the selectmen had also recommended spending $60,000 on a new dump truck, but the Budget Committee balked on the new truck, as did Town Meeting voters. Instead, $10,000 was spent repairing the old truck.

The town has both an undesignated fund balance and multiple reserve accounts. The town auditor has recommended closing the reserve accounts and placing all such money in the single undesignated account.

The CIP Committee's recommendation would accomplish this, while leaving nearly $600,000 in the undesignated account. (It is considered good financial practice for towns to maintain a fund balance equal to two months' typical expenses -- in Bethel's case that would be approximately $425,000).

Other increases

Other major increases in this year's proposed budget include a part-time assistant for the town manager ($13,000), filling the vacant highway department position ($24,500), increased solid waste management expenses (up $19,000), highway department contracted services (up $3,400), overall ambulance expenses (up $5,220), recreational expenses (up $5,150), tree trimming (up $6,021), and employee pay raises ($10,000, to cover raises of from 0 to 5 percent).

The social-service agency account will go down by $9,824 this year, if voters go along with the recommendation of the Budget Committee and selectmen to cut out all such funding.

Since that recommendation was announced last month, three agencies have petitioned for inclusion on the warrant -- Androscoggin Home Health Services ($2,096), Western Area Agency on Aging ($1,733), and Community Concepts ($2,090, plus $480 for the Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention Council).

The selectmen agreed to put these requests on the warrant, but to recommend against funding. The Budget Committee also recommended against funding.

Average increases

During the period from 1990 to 1995, the average increase in Bethel's town budget has been 2.13 percent. That compares with an average increase of 12.66 percent in Bethel's SAD44 assessment and 10.36 in the town's contribution to the county budget.

Over that same period, the annual average increase in the Consumer Price Index (a common measure of inflation) was 3.9 percent.

Rumford director John Bartash summed up the sentiment of most opposed to the proposal.

"Having looked at the change we're getting, we're looking at the same services at a higher cost," he said.

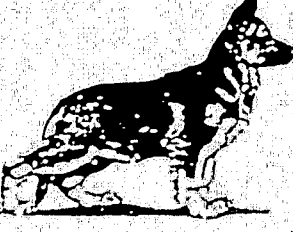

SAD44, Gilead, and Upton have voted for the change. Peru is scheduled to vote this week. Dates have not yet been set for votes by the other committees.

SAD44 Supt. Ron Jenkins said of the SAD43 vote, "It's disappointing and short-sighted. It only takes into account the needs of NOVA at the present time."

Asked if he thought the issue might be brought up again next year if the final tally goes against SAD44 this year, Jenkins said, "I wouldn't recommend going through it again. SAD44 may need to look in a different direction for providing vocational services. But I don't think it's over yet."

From the Bethel Police log:

Bethel Rotary warns of phone scam

On April 27 at 6 p.m. a Bethel Rotary Club member reported that a friend had received a call from a male subject named Don, who was soliciting money for the Rotary. The member stated the club doesn't work in that manner to collect money, and he felt this could be the start of a scam. He was advised the police would try to get something in the paper warning all citizens to be on guard for such calls, and to call the Bethel Police Department if solicited.

Sunday, April 30

At 9:55 p.m. a Bethel resident requested assistance in evicting a tenant from a Mechanic Street apartment owned by him. He said the tenant had stated she would be out by April 30, and was now refusing to leave. The landlord said she had not paid him since she moved in, and he wanted her out. Police explained it was a civil matter, and they could not legally become involved. The complainant was advised he needed a court order of eviction.

Saturday, April 29

At 1:32 a.m. police were requested to respond to a single vehicle accident with four victims, two seriously injured, in Gilead. Police administered first aid to the most seriously injured subject, a female with severe head injuries. The other injuries were non life-threatening. The vehicle had lost control on a bridge and hit a rock outcropping head-on. Police remained at the scene until the victims were transported.

At 10 p.m. a Bethel resident reported a vehicle parked on Broad Street, adjacent to the Elms Building, which had been involved in a hit-and-run accident. A vehicle with damage consistent with the accident was found in Locke Mills. The owner was interviewed and admitted to being in the accident. The owner will be summonsed for failure to report an accident by the quickest means, and leaving the scene of an accident.

Thursday, April 27

At 8:27 p.m. a Crescent Park School custodian reported a small vehicle with loud exhaust was racing around the school parking lot. The vehicle had been seen last in the Bethel Park Apartments area. Police checked, but were not able to locate the vehicle.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log, but does not include all reports of police activity.

Baseball

Hebron 6, Gould 4

Although the baseball team lost to Hebron Wednesday, coach Charlie Newell called it "a nice recovery from a disastrous game against Kents Hill" the week before. Junior Devin Riley threw 1 1/3 innings of relief pitching and hit a three-run homer.

Bridgton Academy 7, Gould 4

Junior Shawn Morales went 4-4 at the plate and had one RBI, while senior Jason Fraser batted 3-4, including a double and two RBIs in a loss to Bridgton Academy Saturday.

Kents Hill 19, Gould 3

In its season opener on April 22, Gould's varsity baseball team went up against Kents Hill School. The parents' weekend game pitted coach Charlie Newell against his son, Alec. The younger Newell graduated from Gould in 1988 and currently teaches and coaches baseball at Kents Hill. Apparently, the elder Newell taught his son a little too much about the game. Kents Hill blasted Gould 19-3. Gould's Allen Siegrist '95 went 3-3 at bat, including a three-run homer. "I did not want to lose this game," said the senior Newell. "But I am proud of Alec and the job he has done at Kents Hill. He's a good young coach."

J.V. Baseball

Kents Hill 11, Gould 7

The junior varsity lost to Kents Hill in the season opener April 22. "We were on a roll," said coach Uel Gardner. "Unfortunately, we ran out of innings."

Boys' Lacrosse

Hebron 15, Gould 3

Sasha Rearick '95, Chris Cardello '96, and Ben Hall '96 each scored one in Gould's 15-3 loss to Hebron Academy on Wednesday.

Waynflete 15, Gould 2

In Saturday's game against Waynflete, Sasha Rearick and Mike Rackliffe '95 each scored one in Gould's 15-2 loss.

Gould 6, Kents Hill 5

Gould won its first game of the season in its home opener against Kents Hill April 22. Junior Chris Cardello put in two goals and Brett Cooper '96, Ben Hall '96, Sasha Rearick '95, and Eric Ritter '95 each scored one. Coach Will Graham praised the defenders and called it the best defensive effort this season.

Boys' J.V. Lacrosse

Hebron 10, Gould 2

Juniors Dave Bennett and Christoffer Sandberg each scored a goal in a 10-2 loss to Hebron on Wednesday.

Waynflete 5, Gould 3

Sophomore Dave Herberich scored twice and Eric Rackliffe put in one in what coach Pete Rackliffe called "the best team play this season."

Gould 5, Kents Hill 4

In the home opener April 22, sophomore Eric Rackliffe scored five goals, including the game winner in overtime, to defeat Kents Hill.

Hyde School 6, Gould 4

The boys' J.V. team lost a close game to Hyde School April 19. Nathaniel Fredericks '98 scored two goals, and Mike Cleary '97 and Andrew Smith '98 each put in one.

Girls' Varsity Lacrosse

Gould 15, North Yarmouth Academy 9

Betsey Kuzyk saved 19 shots in a win over NYA last Wednesday. Senior Kendra Hutchinson led the offense with six goals, and junior Erin McCormick put in five. Brittany Cooper '95, Hannah Quimby '96, Thea Murphy '96, and Hillary Harrison '96 each scored one.

Gould 10, Hebron 9

Erin McCormick, Thea Murphy, and Kendra Hutchinson led the scoring with two goals each in Gould's win over Hebron April 19. Also scoring were Hannah Quimby, Brittany Cooper, Christine Monzel, and Hillary Harrison, with one goal each. Goalie Betsey Kuzyk saved five shots. Gould lost to Kents Hill on April 22, 9-8.

Girls' J.V. Lacrosse

Gould 9, North Yarmouth Academy 0

In their season opener last Wednesday Gould trounced NYA. Goalies Meghan Eckfeldt and Anna French shared the shut-out, Abby Lefebvre '97 and Christine Monzel '98 each scored a hat trick, while Marcy LaVallee, Eva Cardova, and Genevieve Wood put in one apiece.

Boys' Varsity Tennis

Gould boosted its record to 7-0 by beating top-ranked Waynflete School 3-2 last Wednesday. The perfect record was short-lived, however. On Saturday Gould lost to Hyde School. Gould had previously beaten Hyde School (3-2) on April 19 and Bridgton Academy (3-2) on April 22. Against Hyde, senior Rob Graves won 6-4, 6-2 in third singles. Chris Shearer '96 and Jason Gazzilli '95 took first doubles 6-3, 6-2. Sophomores Jon Strazza and Asher Ghermer won second doubles 6-1, 7-6, 7-5.

Girls' Varsity Tennis

Melinda Johansen's second singles win (7-5, 6-4) was Gould's lone bright spot in an April 19 loss to Hyde School, 4-1. The loss was soon forgotten with the help of a 4-1 win over Kents Hill April 22. Seniors Melinda Johansen and Marie Lowell won second and third singles 6-0, 6-0, and 6-1, respectively. Anji Grajewski '96 and Marlis Hamory '95 won first doubles 6-0, 7-5, while Meghan Skea '96 and Amy Swinton '95 won second doubles 6-2, 6-1.

Cycling

In their first race of the season at Holderness School on Wednesday, Gould's cyclists fared well against many strong teams, according to coach Pat Bunt. For the boys, the A team took eighth place, the B team fourth, and the C team eighth. The girls' team took sixth place. Individual highlights included sophomore Dana Drummond's fifth place finish in the boys' B race, and senior Joanna Owen's 12th place finish for the girls.

THERE IS MORE FELICITY ON THE FAR SIDE OF BALDNESS THAN YOUNG MEN CAN POSSIBLY IMAGINE--L.P. Smith

Gould senior accepted at Naval Academy

Gould Academy senior Allen Siegrist of East Petersburg, Pa., received word last week that he had been accepted to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. Siegrist will attend seven weeks of basic training at the academy before his studies begin in the fall.

His decision to apply to the Naval Academy was not one made in haste. He had a clear vision of his educational and career goals for many years. "I knew that I wanted to do this since the eighth grade," Siegrist said. "I knew that I didn't want to go to regular college." In exchange for his four years of education, Siegrist must serve six years of active duty immediately following graduation.

In order to be considered as a candidate for admission, an interested student must fill out a lengthy questionnaire prior to his or her junior year in high school. If a student passes the first hurdle, he or she must complete another application which includes "ions of essays," according to Siegrist. Candidates must also seek nomination from one of their U.S. senators, their U.S. representative, or the vice president of the United States. Siegrist received his nomination from his representative in Pennsylvania.

Siegrist plays varsity baseball and is an accomplished singer and actor.

Greenwood City

by Colista Morgan
The maples are beginning to show a touch of red polish. How pretty they look!

I'm now waiting for the grace notes of the white throat and the cadence of the thrushes.

The high trilling of the peepers, old to rural Mainers, yet ever new, are with us again.

This has been a lovely sunny day. Overhead, the sky stretched away in a sweep of cloudless blue. The distant mountain tops stood out like a dusky silhouette as the sun rose to bid them "Good morning." But there was a little nip in the air when I later took to the woods. All morning I was busy inside, but at 1:30 I went out to visit places of activity where nature was at work. I took the Bulldozer Road toward the farm fields and stopped by a little stream as carefree as the first swallows that arrived last week. A cool breeze brushed my face and I pulled up my hood and huddled into my collar. I picked up a piece of birch bark and put it into my pocket. It was a natural greeting, then I continued on toward the farm gate. After passing through, I sat down on a moss-covered rock, to rest and consider the past. The old cellar hole and stone wall were telltale signs of a way of life long gone, that aroused my curiosity.

It may have been the wind rattling the branches or the rat-a-tat-tat of a woodpecker somewhere nearby that brought me back to reality. I rose, stretched and headed back through the woods toward home.

I looked at Overset Mountain, the sunny slope clothed as usual, gray and green but its white underwear was missing.

It's late afternoon now and dusky shadows make a path across the pond. I watch the pink afterglow. Evening is merging into night.

All is quiet except for the chorus of the frogs.

On Saturday I went to the O.C.R.T. meeting in Bethel with Lettie Brooks and several other teachers.

Several sons and daughters and their families gathered at Rena Curtis' home to help with the spring work there. They stayed Saturday and Sunday.

Milton and Eleanor were at her brother's on Monday helping him with work.

David and Mary came to their parents' on Sunday after returning home from Washington, D.C., on Saturday. Sally was with her father and mother in Poland on Sunday.

Dot Betts took some friends to North Conway Saturday evening to see a play directed by her daughter.

North Woodstock

by Shane Billings

Hi everybody. Today was absolutely beautiful. The sun was shining brightly all through the day, and there was a cool breeze that seemed to shout "it's spring" as it brushed across my face. Many people think the wind is "too cold" or "too rough" and, although I usually agree, light breezes like the one I felt today are always wonderful.

Sarah Chapman left for California on Friday. Her friend Karen drove her to the airport. Sarah had a nice visit and got a chance to visit with her relatives and a few friends.

Mandy McInnis will be in Mexico by the time you read this column; hopefully she is having a wonderful time.

Bridget Billings and Kara Andrews got together Monday afternoon.

Kim Brown and I will be singing in the chorus at Telstar on both Thursday and Friday evening. The production is part of a Fine Arts Night that will also feature three plays by the drama club and some art displays in the hall. The chorus is singing several good numbers.

I am very excited for my graduation, which is coming up in just over seven weeks. There are five students from North Woodstock who will be graduating this year: Kevin Rosenberg, Jaime Orrok, Mandy McInnis, Lori Davis, and myself. The time is flying by and it won't be long until June 9th.

That's it from North Woodstock this week!

It's time to start thinking about summer camp. The Newry Recreation Committee is offering six $50 scholarships to the camp of your choice. The money is available to any Newry children between the ages of five and 18. Please send a letter addressed to: Ellen Marshall, RR2, Box 1993, Bethel, ME 04217, postmarked no later than May 6. The letter should contain the camp of your choice and the reasons for choosing that particular camp. The committee will choose the winners at their May 9 meeting. Also, watch for upcoming news on the Storyland trip.

Happy Birthday to Terri Littlehale on April 26. The Newry Mothers Club will meet May 8 at 7:30 at the Municipal Building.

Ras and Karlene Bachelder were in Stratton Saturday, the 22nd, and visited with his father, who is 94 years old, and found him still spry and cheerful.

Services at the Newry Community Church were held April 23 with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. The Message of the Day: "The Truth Revealed," from Scriptures Acts 5:17-32. "And we are his witnesses on these things, and so is also the Holy Ghost, whom God has given to them that they obey Him." There was also a special by Gil Seeley on the tragedy of the bomb in the heartland Oklahoma. For the children: "Oh! Call my brother back to me! I cannot play alone...The Summer comes with flowers and bee...Where is my brother gone?... P.S. The church members welcomed two new members Sunday - Bev and Jeanette Hinkley.

Karlene Bachelder and yours truly took to the road Saturday, April 22, and went to Unity to visit with her twin sisters, Wilma and Hilma, and her mother, Julia Goodwin, had lunch and took Julia back with us to North Newry to spend a week.

Bill and Sylvia Wight, director/alternate of the Windy Valleys Sno-Mobile Club were at the 17th Annual Banquet and meeting at the Ramada Inn Conference Center in Lewiston on April 22. They will report on it at the next meeting of the club, May 2nd at the Town Building.

Norman and Louise Tetley are back home from Florida where they have spent the last six months without snow and zero weather. Welcome back, friends, now the "Bowling Gang" is ready to do some competitive bowling, ha!

Six members of the "Newry Bowling Gang" were at the Oxford Lanes in Rumford one day last week. They were: Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Gil Seeley, Louise Tetley, Doris Parent and Olive Anderson. Rena Powers and Karlene's mother were guests. On the overall scores, Karlene was high on the triples and high on the singles beating Betsy by two pins. Of the "Righties," Doris was high on the singles and triples, Karlene had one strike and two spares, Betsy had two spares, Doris had two spares and Louise had one spare.

Happy Birthday to Louise Tetley, May 5! Wishing her health and cheerfulness, bestowed by heaven, but seldom understood.

I have received a very interesting letter from Pat Rovero, who together with husband Peter bought the old Howe house on Route 26 that the state plans to remove when the road is widened through the village. She has asked that people, readers, neighbors who have stories, their own or passed down to them about the house, write about their remembrances, history, etc., of the house and the life then and to send them to her. Her children, Laura, 11, Paul, 9, and Matthew, 5, are really curious and want to learn about the house also before it is lost. She said she would gladly share these with the Historical Society and/or readers of this column if they chose. Her address here is just to General Delivery or send them to 42 Damon Heights Road, Niantic, CT 06357.

And now to a personal observation. I think that Jackie Schuesler's timing on suggesting a militia was ill-advised at the least and downright threatening at the most. The last thing I personally want to see are boys with lethal toys running around. We have a tremendous weapon to change the government. It is called the vote. Unless we want to see our country torn apart with various wars such as they have in Bosnia, I suggest we exercise our pencil fingers and not trigger fingers.

The Greenwood Fire Department Auxiliary met Monday evening with Maggie Ring, Denise Swan, Lorraine Mills, Cheryl Young, Mary Stone, and guest Naomi Young present. It was decided to hold meetings every other month through the summer as the next dinners, the Firemen's Association and the Bethel Senior Citizens, would not be until September. If anything comes up unexpectedly, a special meeting will be called and members notified. The treasurer, Denise Swan, was authorized to send a sum of money to Project Graduation. It was reported that the Firemen's fund-raiser Sunday, April 23, went well and their might do another one later on. The next meeting will be Monday, June 26, at 6:30 at the fire station.

Animals never cease to amaze me. I took Lucy in to be spayed and was concerned that Jazz-Poochie, who as people know from this column is a holy terror (wonder where that expression came from?) would be very rough with her, so the first night home I put her in a room by herself. The next day, however, she wanted out, so I let her out. She promptly laid down, rolled over on her back, let J-P sniff of her tummy, and from then on J-P has been very careful around her and has not even asked her to play. There must be some communication here I know not of. I also learned Lucy is a springer spaniel not a Brittany. So much for my knowledge of dogs!

Today, May 3, Beverly Stevens is retiring after over 32 years of service to the farmers of Oxford County. An Open House is being held today at the Agricultural Service Center from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Everyone is welcome. Come in and wish Beverly Good Luck!

Last night, Beverly invited some of the workers and former workers (me) to her house for a very nice supper. Marcia Morse, Pearl Buck, Laura Rand, Andrea Wing and Beverly chatted all evening and had a wonderful time talking about funny things and some serious things that have happened in the past years. I worked with Beverly for 21 years. Beverly gave each one of us a kitchen mouse. These took a lot of work and are the cutest additions to our houses. Thanks, Bev.

Nick and Marta Clements flew down to Birmingham, Ala., recently to visit with their son and family, David Clements and Dr. Audrey Lazenby, and of course beautiful granddaughter Carolyn, who is six and one-half months old. While there they went to see Birmingham Zoo and visited with Audrey's parents, Dr. William and Peggy Lazenby. They had a wonderful time and will go back again soon.

Nick and Marta have been traveling to Belfast quite often to visit Marta's parents and Nick's parents due to some sickness in the family. Friday, Marta is taking the annual trip with her fifth grade to Boston Aquarium. This is a fun event that the children make money for each year.

glad bulbs that I ordered from the school recently. The Miclon girls lived beside us for a number of years and it is always good to see them.

May birthdays to be congratulated so far are: Earl Hart, Sarah Hart, Debbie Poland, Tommy Poland, Kellie Hart, and Donna Koshiba. There's probably some I left out and will add next time.

Sarah and Jessie Hart have been helping spring clean during their spring vacation. Jessie is on the Middle School Track team at Telstar. Sarah and friend Jim visited for a short time at Telstar this week, as Oxford Hills was having a workshop day.

Larry Billings, curator, Woodstock Historical Society, reports that Basil Sequin recently had some newspaper articles copied and gave them to the society. Larry reminds us that the museum will be opening in June. Society members should be prepared to sign up to watch it and give tours to visitors. Mr. Billings has given classics both to the historical society and Whitman Library. His academic background was primarily in British and American literature. He has also given a picture and world globe to the society. The society is a center for discovery for everyone.

I want to apologize for not having much news lately. I haven't been feeling well due to some medicine I've had to take. I'm feeling much better now and will try not to miss any.

Quote of the week: "I've learned that age is important only if you are a cheese."

Songo Pond

Again our community has been saddened by the passing of a dear friend and a much loved teacher, Maxine Brown. She adored her family and loved teaching and the hundreds of students she had taught over the years. Our deepest sympathy to her loving family and all who knew her.

A large moose strolled up across our lawn Sunday morning, wandered under the clothesline in back of the house, then turned and went out around the big white birch tree, up across the back yard and eventually back down to the highway and down the road.

Tami and Christopher Swan of Auburn had lunch here Friday, then Norma drove them to the "Children's Museum" in Rumford, then back to Auburn.

Sunday morning, Brandon and Tara Salway came up from Old Orchard Beach, Sylvia Swan and three children came from Auburn, Ethel and Craig Turner, Jon Bean and two friends from Otisfield, Dottie and Herbie Adams of Hanover, and Norma and David Salway and helped me celebrate another milestone, all chipping in with gifts and refreshments, including traditional cake and ice cream. On Thursday, "the day," I received calls from family in Oregon, Idaho, Florida and Pennsylvania.

Bud Paine drove me to Rumford Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bancroft were in Norway on Monday and Thursday for medical appointments.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Preble of Randolph, Mass., were at their cottage this past weekend.

A loon was enjoying the water around our wharf Thursday. As many as five have been seen on the other side of the pond.

Mrs. Donna Folsom was a caller here Wednesday evening.

If Life is Music, Love and Laughter, let me live forever.

East Stoneham

Hi to all you readers out there and Happy Spring! It must be spring, because we heard the tree buds peeping and had our first mess of smelts. Oh, how good they were! - thanks to son and grandson Gene and Troy. Also, my sister Frances Grant found some pretty mayflowers already.

John and Gabrielle Evans are having a new deck added to their home. This Bill Brown is doing the work.

Cheryl and Paul Barnard and family from Stafford, Va., made a brief visit with her parents, Albert and Eleanor Nelson on April 20 and 21. Paul and Dale Nelson were in the famous canoe race at the Kenduskeag Stream below Bangor on Saturday. There were over 600 canoes on the race, and Dale and Paul did not tip over as many did. It took them three and one-half hours to do the race. It was a great challenge and they enjoyed it. Their wives and children were along the sidelines cheering them along at different points.

Bob Millett is doing some carpenter work on the Jillson barn for Savin Millett in Waterford.

Eleven members of the Stoneham Fire Department met on Tuesday evening at the fire station, May 27 is the date of the Firemen's Supper and final drawings of the raffle tickets. The menu will be roast beef and ham, etc.

Albert Nelson and son are busy doing cemetery work this spring.

Paul Taylor of New Hampshire was a guest of his Aunt Gladys Kilgore this past weekend and brought some paneling for their living room.

Dennis Farnsworth Jr. has been in town doing yard work, etc., for members of town. Dennis and Marge sold their Morgan horse last week.

The Planning Board met on Wednesday evening to discuss and act on several permits.

Molly Nelson was out one evening recently and interviewed her grandmother for a class project. Now she has my whole life history. She just got the highlights, which is just as well maybe.

By the way, at the Stoneham Church's 100th birthday celebration I think there will be a book on the sales table entitled, "Stoneham Remembered." Anyone who has had families in Stoneham at one time or another would be very interested in this book I am sure. The celebration is public and is to be Aug. 26 and 27. There will be much to do and see on that date here. Mark it on your calendar and we'll see you there. It will be a fun day.

There was a church public supper planning meeting at the vestry on April 20. I will get the supper dates to you in next week's column.

West Bethel

Dear Cynthia, The purple and white crocus bloom by the kitchen door, finally.

The iris inch their blades sunward; the dubious lupine thrust their stellar leaves through the surface; the brown grass turns green in the gentle rain, even as we watch. It is spring in West Bethel at last! Not yet dependably balmy enough to work outdoors in the shirtsleeves, the sweatshirt and perhaps the windbreaker are on again off again, as the body temp fluctuates with the energy/breeze level. But we have moved out of doors for hours each day; our hands are once again pawing and pulling and lifting clumps of this to here and that to there, moving and rearranging and separating the good from the bad.

In the midst of this glorious resurrection, we gathered in the Easter morning half light on our favorite knoll at the Grover farm to pay homage to the son-rise and the sun-rise as once again your son John led us in a prayerful tribute to the power that urges us all from birth to death. A little band of believers in goodness, we huddled in the early morning cold, staring at the clouds that obscured the warming disk, and listening to robins harmonize with John's voice as snowflakes crowned our heads. Our belief in the constancy of the sun was not diminished by its obscurity; our faith in the promise of life was renewed by the mere gathering. With the last "Amen," the hungry congregation ambled down the road to the Dan Grover house to break our fast with Easter eggs of the caseroled kind. We missed you.

Soon satiated and practically awake, we all hurried down the Flat Road to change into our Sunday-go-to-meeting duds for the special Easter service with its special Easter music and its special visits from friends and relatives. We were especially pleased to be able to sing to Emma and Meghan Cole, the delightful twin daughters of Rebecca and Charles, attended by their Uncle David, their great-grandparents, Ina and Rupert, and their oh-so-shyly-proud grandfather, David, who by the way also provided their first ever Easter outfits.

A small band of youngsters, including your dapper great-grandsons, Tyler and Morgan, joined us in the celebration, most of them containing their enthusiasm for the hour at hand, and all but one of them remaining seated and quiet for the duration. The young rambler in question managed, in passing too close to the altar and the organ, to topple a lily or two, but a deeply sour note on the organ at the climax of the choir's prelude and most difficult song (this one with a wonderful piano accompaniment, and distract us all to the extent that few, if any of us heard the full measure of John's message. But we have great faith in human nature, growth, and the potential for change... by the time that curious toddler grows into her longish skirts, her mother, no doubt will have figured out that it's her job, not ours, to keep her child in check, in her seat, quiet, content, or at home, whichever seems prudent. Meanwhile, we hope that said mother is an avid reader, and a willing listener to sound advice from those who have lots of parenting notes to share.

Now, while we're on the subject of willing listeners and precious mothers, we have sad news to report. Our dear friend and neighbor, Margaret Merrill left us for heavens unknown last week. She had been hospitalized in Portland for many weeks and had planned to come home to continue her recuperation, when a power stronger than her heart decided that her work was finished. So, instead of a hospital bed, she rested on a cushion of satin, surrounded by great sprays of flowers, as friends and neighbors came from near and very far to help the family bid her farewell. Donald gave his dear friend a memorable party gift...his most beautiful rendition of the Lord's Prayer...we two sang a duet (my less powerful voice hindered by the weakness of the faulty mike... we must discuss a sound system with someone soon...perhaps an ex-radio type who would have connections, pardon the pun)...Nesta played beautifully, and Rev. Raymond Bradley eulogized Margaret as only a person who had been brought into her fold long ago could do it Ray, who has been Doris Brown's son-in-law for many years, came to Bethel as a young seminarian, preached at our church and lived with the Merrills for that duration. His personal accounts of life with Margaret added a special dimension to his eulogy and to the service of love that he conducted.

Our own Grace Merrill and Emerson and Adeline Clough have lost a dear sister: the Merrill sons and daughters, grandsons, granddaughters, and young great-grandchildren have said farewell to a strong influence and a loving matriarch. And Alfred has been surprised and greatly saddened by the turn of events that took his partner of 67 years away from his heart.

In our years of sitting on the front porch at the Merrill farm, watching the world move by on its way to the town or into the forest, we've learned of the decades of working together to make cattle grow, or children grow, or friendship grow. We've learned to be patient with the stories that catalogued a life of enriched experience, joy, sorrow, and love. We too have been enveloped by Margaret's warm welcome and her insistence on being a part of our lives. We will remember her as we think to the Hilditch hearts that moved from her garden to ours; we will think of her every time we see bluebirds on the wire or on the wing, whenever we pass her fields, or any field, for that matter, we will hear her unique voice telling us stories of the land that she loved. And we will miss her enveloping hugs and her friendly waves. We will continue to marvel at the wonders around us, to fish with Alfred, to count the deer from his window, to enjoy the creatures that roam between the Merrill and the Hilditch pastures, to take a good look at all living things. And we will remember Margaret.

This week, as we go about the business of springing into spring, we will remember in our thoughts and good wishes Dick Hosterman who is recovering from surgery at Stevens Memorial, Ellie MacMunn, who struggles to speak with mysteriously weakened vocal chords, as she recovers from stage two of her heart repairs, and Arthur Gilbert and Ina Grover who fight the good fight against invading viruses or some such bios. As we prepare to fertilize the lawn we will thank Jack Brooks for his perseverance and superb library skills in locating the product that will simultaneously promote greening while eliminating grasshoppers as they leap. We will continue to sell chances on the latest quillow (call, you readers out there, if you'd like to try your luck on a lap robe quillow thingy done in greens and pinks...I'll even throw in a perennial of your choice if you take a chance). As we turn over the compost that waits to be added to the bin, we will be on the lookout for more worms of the aerating type. One was spotted the other day... a few thousand more and the lawn and gardens will be enriched! In our search for the ideal smoke-free breakfast, (we thought we had found just the spot at the Frozen Logger, last week, until one woman sat down as we were finishing our coffee, lit up, and exhaled in our direction! Ugh!) we will drive in ever-wider circles. And as we cover the land to the south, perhaps we'll spot another wild turkey or a white-winged crossbill. We added these two species to our list just the other day as we passed through Acton on a Sunday outing! And as you read this, dear relocated friend to the northwest, we'll be preparing for our first public supper of the season at the Union Church. The beans will be hot on Saturday, May 6, should you have the inclination to drive east.

Meanwhile, keep us informed of your moves about the Oregon checkerboard. Hug your dear Roger for us, and keep the coffee warm... Janet and Lynn are still advertising the house... who knows what this new season will bring... hopefully on a train across the country while there is still a train across the country.

Write with stories of your new gardens and new birds. We miss you. Love, C.B.

GRANGE HONORS LORDS

On Monday, April 17, Franklin Grange 124 honored the Rev. and Mrs. Roland Lord of Bryant Pond for their many years of devoted service to the community and all the nursing homes in the area. They have helped both the young and the elderly and are dearly beloved by all. They are very active in both civic and community affairs -- church, American Legion, the library, and the Republican Party of Maine. They were presented the Community Service Certificate and paperweight by Master pro tem, Mrs. Olive Risko.

As this was Community Service -- State of Maine -- Booster Open House Night, the "State of Maine Song" was done after saluting the American flag and doing the Lord's Prayer. There were vocal solos by Harry Boyer; music by Lona and Bill Bedard; skit by Harry Boyer and Lauretta Hall; vocal quartet of Laura Hutchins and Lorene, Mandy and Kayla Cobb; History of Maine and the Grange in Maine, Bertha Benoit; piano solos, Althea Fish; Junior Grange skit under the direction of Lucy Ridley, leader, accompanied by Lona Bedard on the accordion; music by the Grange Band, ending with "God Bless America" by all.

Franklin Grange 124 and West Paris Grange 298 were the guests of the Mission Congregational Church of West Paris, April 23, for "Grange Go to Church Sunday."

COUNTY G.O.P. TO MEET

Kathy Watson, vice-chair of the Maine Republican Party, will be the featured speaker at the May 9 meeting of the Oxford County Republican Committee, to be held at the Spurr's Corner Fire Hall in Otisfield. The social hour will begin at 6 p.m., a spaghetti supper ($5 per person) will be held at 7 p.m., and the meeting at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Watson's topic will be "Grassroots Organizing." All Oxford County Republicans are cordially invited to attend.

WEST PARIS LIBRARY

New books at the library include the following: "Jennie Gilroy" by Elizabeth Ogilvie; "Insomnia" by Stephen King; "Bloodline" by Gerry Boyle; "Home Song" by LaVyrle Spencer; "The Lottery Winner" by Mary Higgins Clark; "Dispatcher from Maine" by John Gould; "Valley of the Sun" by Louis L'Amour; "The Celestine Prophecy" by James Redfield; "Debt of Honor" by Tom Clancy; "The Glass Lake" by Maeva Ben-Chay; "Nobody's Fool" by Richard Russo; "The Giver" by Lois Lowry. For the younger reader: "Shadow in the North and the Ruby in the Smoke" by Philip Pullman. Beginners: "Lost Mouse" by Jan Slepian.

The library has received a computer from the town office. Richard Perham is going to consider what programs are compatible and best serve the needs of the library. He will be working with the librarian and trustees to make it a useful piece of equipment. Books brought to the library for the Aug. 12 sale are very much appreciated. Because of the lack of interest in condensed books, we prefer that donations be only hard cover or paperbacks.

The Friends of the Library have selected Patty Makley to be their president for the ensuing year. Martha Day will continue as secretary and as treasurer. By-laws for the Friends have been approved. The three- and four-year-old fun class, led by Donna DiConzo, do appreciate their floor pillows made by the Girl Scout group, which is led by Mrs. Shedd. These girls will also be raking the lawn for the library.

The next meeting of the Friends of the Library will be May 10, 7 p.m.

WEST PARIS GRANGE

On Thursday, April 20, West Paris Grange 298 honored Cleo and Emory Ryerson, lifelong area residents, with the Community Service Award for 1995. They have worked with both the young people and the elderly for more than 50 years and put on the Memorial Day Parade for 25 of those years.

Also honored in a special ceremony were Mrs. Mary Lovejoy and Mr. Leland Doughty, Ceres and Assistant Steward of West Paris Grange, for outstanding service and devotion to the Grange and for all the hard work they have done.

As this was the Community Service -- State of Maine -- Booster Open House Night the program included a DARE program skit with Jessica Farrar, Sabrina Martin and Danielle Stearns; 10-point DARE program talk by John Tibbets, DARE officer, and Sheriff Skip Herrick; music of the Bedard Trio; History of Maine and the Grange in Maine, Bertha Benoit; lip singing, Ryan Sherman of Wales; music by the Grange Band; Easter poem by Lecturer; closing song, "God Bless America" by all. Refreshments were enjoyed downstairs afterwards.

Both Franklin Grange 124 and West Paris Grange 298 were the guests of the Mission Congregational Church of West Paris on April 23 for the annual "Grange Go to Church Sunday."

VERNON JONES AND THE VERNON JONES SINGERS

Gospel singers to perform at Gould

The Gould Academy Performing Arts Series will present a performance by the Vernon Jones Gospel Singers on Thursday, May 11, in the Bingham Auditorium. The 7:30 performance is open to the public.

Prior to the Thursday evening performance, the New Haven, Conn., based group will perform at two assemblies for Telstar Middle and High School students. Support for these assemblies, part of the Mahoosuc Arts series of performing artists, was received from Chris Brink and Jill Rundle of Newry. The evening concert is funded in part by a grant from the New England Foundation for the Arts, with additional support from the Maine Arts Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Vernon Jones is a well-known gospel singer and director who has won three Gospel Academy Awards. He calls his music a universal language that reflects feelings. "That's what music is supposed to do, touch people," he says. "I believe that music has a healing effect somehow." Gospel music, he says, "helps people get in touch with their inner selves while at the same time providing answers to profound questions."

Heard most often in African-American churches, gospel music has its roots in West African music styles. It has often been called a springboard for rhythmic-and-blues pop music. Popular artists Little Richard, Whitney Houston, Aretha Franklin, and Elvis Presley were all influenced by gospel music's style.

The Vernon Jones Singers have been performing for more than two decades, and have shared the stage with the likes of Edwin Harkins, Andre Crouch, Reverend Thomas A. Dorsey and Odette, in addition to winning numerous gospel music awards and performing in several New York plays. Their most recent accomplishment is their vocal backup on Foreigner's hit song "I Want to Know What Love Is."

Tickets for the Thursday evening performance are $5 for adults and $3 for students, and are available at the door. For further information, please contact Vicki Rackliffe at 824-3575.

RUMFORD CONCERT ASSOC.

Four exciting concerts will come to Rumford in the 1995-96 season. Rumford Community Concert Association will include organist Aran Basmadjian, violinist Sang Lee, harpist Carol McLaughlin, and the Irish folk group The Cassidys. Rumford Community Concert membership committee held its kick off dinner for the 1995-96 season at Park Place, Monday, April 10.

Barbara Smith Baker, president of the local concert association explained that it is necessary to buy a subscription for all four concerts, that individual tickets are not sold. The price for the four is only $25 for adults, $22 for senior citizens, $10 for students, and $5 for a family membership.

Dee Holman, campaign chairperson said, "At prices as low as that, it is a bargain if you only attend two concerts." She also mentioned the value to the community of having four community concerts each year. She feels that anyone thinking of living in the area will be impressed to know that we offer professional concerts, as well as those of our own local talent.

GET YOUR VEGGIES HERE—Ernest and Helen Nieberle, owners of the former Claude Cushman farm, are building a new vegetable stand on Route 26 in Woodstock. They plant 10 acres of pumpkins each year, and also raise sheep and Galloway cows. "We have some thousand-pound pigs, and two Vietnamese pot-bellied pigs, too," Helen said. Olde Home Days activities

Plans are underway for Andover Olde Home Days on Aug. 4, 5, and 6. This 16th annual event promises to be bigger and better than ever.

This year celebrates the 200th anniversary of the Library Association. In commemoration of this event, the theme of Olde Home Days is "The Magic of Books." The theme for floats runs the gamut from Stephen King to Zane Grey to Beatrix Potter, or anything and everything in between. Cash prizes of $100, $50, and $25 will be given to the top three floats. Everyone is welcome to join the parade. Float makers must pre-register by Aug. 3. Forms will be available at local stores and at the town office.

Olde Home Days will include the usual games, food and fun. There will be entertainment on Friday evening on the common. Ellis River Riders are planning on a Beano-Casino night at the town hall.

A flower show will be held at the historical building on Saturday. The Congregational Church will host a craft and food sale. There will be wagon rides and an art show at the town hall. Also planned on Saturday: a chicken barbecue at the fire station, a fire muster at the ball field and sky divers. A new addition this year will be a flower-vegetable garden contest. Karaoke will entertain on the common Saturday afternoon after drawing of prizes.

The committee is always looking for volunteers: call 392-2131, 392-3302, or 392-3157.

The Andover Community Yard and Craft Sale will be held on June 17 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Spaces are available for $10. Electricity is an additional $5 and tables provided upon request for $5. Payment must be made in advance. Please call the above numbers. This event is held annually to help defray the costs of Andover Olde Home Days.

We will have a silent auction from 6-8 p.m. during the banquet with many nice items including overnight trips, white water rafting, gift certificates and more.

The Art Fair Committee of Rene McGrew, Gail Giarusso, Tom McGinniss and Robin Zinchuk will meet on Tuesday, May 9, at noon at the Bethel Frame Shop. The Education Committee of Cathy Newell, Lois Ruff, Rick Hoddinott, Judy Foster, Nancy Harrison and Robin Zinchuk will meet on Wednesday, May 10, at 6:30 p.m. at Crescent Park School. The Awards Selection Committee of Cathy Newell, Micki Hoddinott, Gwyneth Bohr, Lois Ruff and Peggy Wight will meet at 4 p.m. on Friday, May 5, at the Adult Learning Center at the Ethel Bisbee School. The Community Projects/Beautification Committee of Carole Duplessis, Joe Cardello and Barbara Brown is scheduled to meet on Monday, May 8.

TEE TIME—Golf pro Mark Mallory marks the beginning of the golf season in Bethel with the placing of the Bethel Inn Pro Shop sign. The resort opened its 18-hole championship course for the season last Friday. Members and guests enjoyed the finest opening day conditions since the course was completely renovated six years ago, according to Allen Connors, general manager for marketing.

Howe named to Museum Assessment Project

Stanley R. Howe, director of the Bethel Historical Society, has been named to the surveyor roster of the Museum Assessment Program sponsored by the American Association of Museums and the federal Institute of Museum Services.

Surveyors must have at least five years of museum experience and/or exceptional professional experience related to museums, as well as a familiarity with national and regional museum resources. After on-site visits, surveyors provide assessments to museums on general operations, collection issues, and an institution's relationship with its public. Through this peer-review process, museums gain an impartial view of their operations, which can often be useful in long-range and strategic planning processes.

A Bethel native, Howe is a graduate of Gould Academy and the University of Southern Maine, with graduate degrees from the universities of Connecticut and Maine. In 1980, he graduated from the Seminar in Historical Administration, held for museum professionals each year at Colonial Williamsburg. This month-long seminar is sponsored jointly by Colonial Williamsburg Foundation, the National Trust for Historic Preservation, the American Association for State and Local History, and the American Association of Museums.

Now in his 21st year as director of the Bethel society, Howe has seen the organization grow from approximately 50 members to more than 1,000 and budget, endowment and programming expand accordingly to the point where it is now one of the best-known historical agencies in the state, particularly in the areas of publications, education and preservation programs.

Howe has been active professionally as a reviewer for IMS grants, as a participating scholar in a number of humanities projects, as chair of the Museum Advisory Panel of the Maine Arts Commission, as an evaluator for various humanities exhibits, as a member of the Editorial Board of the Maine Historical Society, as the historian member of the Maine Historic Preservation Commission, and as book review editor for "Maine History." He is a former trustee of the Maine Historical Society and the Maine League of Historical Societies and Museums.

A visiting lecturer at a number of universities, he has also lectured and written widely on a variety of subjects relating to New England and Canadian history. Active in the Bethel community, he is currently serving as the chairman of the town's Bicentennial Committee.

ELLIS RIVER RIDERS' CLINIC

The Ellis River Riders' Horse Club will have a Team Penning Clinic for interested club members on Saturday, May 6 and Sunday, May 7 at their arena on the Airport Road in Andover, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Team and individual penning are competitive events which simulate the work done at a cattle roundup. Horse and rider are required to separate certain calves out of a herd and move them into a pen, without bringing the others with them.

A few members of the Ellis River Riders distinguished themselves last year in this sport, which has experienced a growing popularity in the Northeast recently. Sal Mazza of Rumbold Point, Ron York and Connie Jack of the Remuda Ranch in East Dixfield were awarded first-place honors in Maine as a team, and Ron York won first in the one-on-one.

Ron York and Connie Jack will be the instructors for the participants in this clinic. For more information, call 364-3740.

Spectators are welcome to attend. There will be a $3 fee each day for anyone interested in observing this exciting new equine event.

KEEP US IN MIND
It's that time of year when your local Rotary Club must start gathering items for our annual auction. The proceeds of all of our efforts go to support such projects as the Senior Citizen Christmas Dinner, Christmas Food Baskets for the needy, student scholarships, support of the local health facilities, summer camp facilities, area athletes expenses, disabled individual needs, etc.
If you're cleaning the garage, attic or cellar, let us get rid of those unwanted items for you. Call Roger Conant, 824-2131 or 824-2269 for pickup.
